A 4-month "live" and recorded virtual course to examine, experience, and embrace your soul-journey opportunities to expand and evolve.

Losses in life we may encounter include:

Death: Child, Spouse, Friend, Sib, Parent

Animals

Adoption

Relationship

Health/Capability

Job

Move

Addiction

Natural Disaster

and more . . .

Your SOUL is WISE. Endings and Beginnings are the “song” of our Soul when the timing of a shift in your life is needed. Any “loss”, whether death, relationship, health, work, natural disaster, and more can lead us into a painful and confusing life circumstance. While grief, loss, and life’s challenging abruptions happen for each of us, we are to trust in the perfection of such opportunities to expand our wisdom and impact on Humanity.

The “window” of our soul agreements to grow and evolve often appear like “mountains” to summit and move beyond. Death of loved ones, health complications, passing of a beloved animal, loss of a relationship, natural disaster, and many other “loss” issues bring us face to face with great pain, thinking we could control such circumstances in our life.

Many, if not most, of the more difficult happenings in our life are soul-level intentions that provide the option for us to alter our course or attitude in life. If we view a loss as only a rude interruption to make us unhappy vs. a chance to take an alternate, unplanned path we lose the “foothold” on our ladder to expand our soul’s evolution.

What does your Soul have in store when you embrace the golden opportunity to step through and beyond life’s events that, on the surface, appear perhaps insurmountable yet are an avenue to exciting, unexpected novel experiences?

For me, at age 25, my husband and I suffered the premature birth and passing of our second child. Grief’s natural depression response was initially quite frightening. Fortunately, I found a psychotherapist who supported my first steps to realize that I wasn’t permanently at a “low” point in my emotional life. Admittedly, it took some time to learn that grief and loss must be faced and can be integrated into your life. Many years later, once I discovered past lives, karma, life contracts, and soul-growth opportunities, I came to KNOW the purposeful nature of the loss of our baby. For many of my clients, health complications are a common occurrence. Discovering the means to cope and understand the trigger for such physical issues often reduces and relieves the symptoms.

COME join me and others for a 4-month “journey” as we travel together to “unlock” the wisdom of your Soul Evolution to use each “loss” in life as an open window to understand your Soul’s intent to evolve for yourself and the greater good of your loved ones and Humanity.

Warmly,
Dr. Linda Backman
